Rev. Stephen R. Trowbridge Estimates Number in Adana Province at 23,000.

SURVIVORS ARE HOMELESS

They Are Not Many and They Are Mostly Women and Children.

It is the Missionary's Opinion That a Plot Existed to Destroy Every Armenian in the Province.

Adana, Asiatic Turkey, Wednesday, April 28, via Constantinopie, May 6 .-The Rev. Stophen R. Trowbridge, a missionary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, estimates the number of Armenians killed in the province of Adana since the outbreak of the anti-Christian rioting at 23,000. The missionary said today: "A conservative estimate of the Christians killed in the city of Adama is 3,000. This calculation is made up from the list prepared by the priests and other officials who give permits for burials. Not less than 9,000 perished in the towns and villages of the pro-vince. This figure is based u.o.i the full information sent ferward by the British consult.

The surliving Armen and in the en-The surviving Armen and in the entire province are largely women and children. They amount to about 25,000 rouls, and are today without homes, shops, tools, clothing or bread. A most pitlable and wretched multitude is passing up and down the streets of Adana like a lost people. They throng the big factory yards, where a dole of flour is given out by the relier committee. Crowds of broken-hearted women and children are coming in from that country to even greater misery in the city."

in the city."

Mr. Trowbridge has written a farther account of the events at Adama and especially with reference to the attitude of the Turkish authorities. In this recital he says:

"We understand from consular telegraph that the sublime parts assured rams that the sublime porte assured the ambassadors at Constantinople that a slight outbreak had occurred at Adana with about 50 casualties and the burning of a few houses; and the porte declared further that the Americans here were amply protected.

ORIGIN OF STRUGGLE.

"We do not know the exact origin of the struggle. I say struggle because of the struggle. I say struggle because this has not been a messacre in the sense that the Armenians died without-resisting. They fought desperately in self-defense and the furry of the Turks increased in proportion as the Armenians succeed in slaying Mohammedaus. For two dows proceeding the outliers to there had been a bitter feud between Moslems and Christians. In one vine-yard shooting was begun and hatred was aroused on April 12. An Armentan who had been beaten shot one of his opponents dead and wounded two others. This man escaped to Mersina and took passage on a vessel.

"The Turks in Adama then assumed a menacing attitude which greatly alarmed the Armenians. The body of the Moslem killed in the vineyard was purposely dragged to an open square and left there exposed by the Turks as a fanatical challenge,

"A rumor spread among the Armenfans on April 14, that massacreing by the Turks already had been begun and, as a demonstration of self defense a volley of shots were fired from the roofs of Christian houses. This in turn was interpreted in the Moslem quarters as an attack, and the word spread like wildare that the Armenians were in revolt and must be crushed.

GOVERNMENT ACQUIESCED.

"Subsequent events have shown clearly that the Adana government acquiesced, if it did not actually partici-pate in the cruel and indiscriminate attacks made with fire and rifle and sword upon the entire Armenian colony, including our protestant congregation, which as a body, has been wholly loyal to the government. Two Christian prisoners who escaped from government headquarters declared horsemen came in at intervals from outlying towns and villages and reported to the military authorities as follows:

'Hamidieh is finished' or 'Osminyeh is finished' meaning of course that the Armenian populations of these places had been put to the sword. The military officers received this information as a matter.

tion as a matter of course. "The further occupation of Moham-medan minarets by regular soldiers began shortly after noon of April 14, at the very outset of the struggle. These goldiers kept up a cruel fusillade into all parts of the Christian quarter. They were shielded by the parapets of the minarets. There were no patrols of soldiers or police all day Wednesday, the 14th, none on Thursday and none on Friday at the real crisis, when a Mos-lem mob filled the streets from here to the river, surging against the walls of the girls' school. The government fur-uished us no protection whatever."

Continuing, Mr. Trowbridge related how he had reached the governor of Adam by a dash across the city carryanana by a dash across the city carry-ing a Turkish flag and accompanied by two Turks. "The governor was run-cing about in dismay," Mr. Trowbridge said, "and he could scarcely give a coand, "and he could scarcely give a coherent answer to my questions and demands. I told him of the murder of Henry Maurer and D. M. Rogers, Amvican missionaries. He turned pale at he statement, although he had already heard of the killings. His answers were. I cannot be responsible." To this I replied, 'You must be responsible we have no other force to rely on Carpt the government. You have combletely chandoned us through this criidetaly abandoned us through this crifling in and out of the governor's au-diego chamber. The governor finally conferred with his commandment, who b. digratched to the American school."

Under the direction of George E. Hair of the local land office, the work of designating the lands for entry is going on apace. Today Agent W. L. Miller began work in Sanpete county. The work in Millard and Boxelder counties has been completed by Agents H. V. Campbell and W. W. Pefley, and they are now busy making their reports which will be sent to Washington. It is exwill be sent to Washington. It is expected that Agent Gammon will finish his work in Tooele county the latter part of next week, when he, and those who have already finished counties, will be given fresh assignments. As soon as the state has been gone over in this way, and the reports have been sent to Washington, advices may be looked for allowing the people to make entry of those dry farm lands. That will probably be several months ahead.

HIGHEST IN SIX YEARS.

J. E. Dooly Tells of Launch Trip to Antelope Island.

J. E. Dooly made a trip this week up the east side of the great lake in a gasolene launch drawing 20 to 24 inches. The level of the lake is now so much higher than it was a year ago that there was no trouble runn ing the boat over the ford and other shallow places, the first time this has been done in six years. However, the rise is not enough as yet to admit of the large boat from Saltair attempting the passage, but moderately sized gasolene launches can run up and down on the east side of Antolope island without difficulty. Conditions on the island were never better, with the cattle looking fine and prospects for range feed good. Mr. Dooly says it is all a mistake for any one to imagine there is not fine water over there, for there is plenty of it, strong in lithia.

Mr. Dooly has four fine buffalo yearlings which he is raising, and which are as tame as any cattle, frisking about like young colts. He was asked as to future probabilities of Antelope Island as a summer resort, Mr. Dooly said that when Salt Lake came to be a city of 150,000 inhabitants it would pay to run a railroad across from the main land just above Jeremy's salt works from a point where the distance to the been done in six years. However, the land just above Jeremy's salt works from a point where the distance to the nearest point on the island is only 134 miles, and thence up on one or both sides of the island. Winter residences could be built on the protected eastern slope of the island never touched by the strong west winds that blow so much in winter weather; while the western shores would be just the place for summer resorts easily reached by the proposed air line railroad from this city.

Emigration Canyon and City Creek Only Available Sources -Sprinklers Laid Off.

FAMINE THREATENS THE CITY

State Prison in Bad Fix-Damage to Property-Trains Tied Up-Conduit Washed Out.

With two work trains and a gang of 50 men dumping rocks along the roadbed, the Rio Grande Western railroad is naking a desperate effort this morning to save its tracks in Parley's canyon. A section of the conduit from the Big Cottonwood canyon has been washed out and the Parley's canyon reservoir nas been put out of commission by the high water. It became necessary to turn all the water in the conduit into the Big Cottonwood creek. Parley's canyon is a raging torrent and so mudpurposes. In order to save the reservoir from destruction the water has been divided and turned into private canals and around the by-pass which has been washed out, resulting in several thousand dollars damage.

FAMINE IMMINENT. This leaves the city with a supply of water from Emigration canyon and City creek. The sprinkling wagons have been laid off today in the eastern part of the city on account of the scant supply of water. On this account the streets were not flushed last night. City creek is raising rapidly and becoming muddy. It is possible that the supply of water for the next few days will be decidedly limited. The state prison has enough water in its reservoir to last about 24 hours. After that is gone Warden Pratt says he does not know what he will do for water.

WORK ALL NIGHT. Superintendent of Waterworks Thomas Hobday and Land and Water Comdissioner Frank Mathews are now on the grounds. They each have a gang of men and are trying to save the reservoir and reduce the damage as nuch as possible. About 75 men are now working in the canyon for the city. Food, bedding and tents will be taken up to the reservoir this afternoon and the men will be held there to watch the water constantly.

THREE TRAINS DELAYED.

Three trains were delayed in the canyon this morning on account of the dangerous washouts. The roadbed is undermined in several places. As fast as possible carloads of rocks are being dumped into these places to stop the further damage.

"Billy" Whitla was the first witness and before being sworn in caused a ripple of laughter when he answered the question as to where boys go who do not tell the truth by saying:

"They go to hell."

In his boyish way he told the story of the man who said his name was Mr. Jones calling for him with a buggy at the school and telling him he had been sent to take him away on account of smallpox; that he was to take others also and that "Billy" would meet his friends on the train.

"Billy" said Mr. Jones gave him a letter and asked him to write his mother's name and address on it, that he did so with a pencil and the man mailed it in Sharon, When asked to describe the difference in the man's appearance then and now "Billy" said that when he first saw the man "he had his whiskers here," pointing to his upper lip, He said the man took the whiskers off after a while. He told of the drive to Warren, the subsequent trip to Niles and Ashtabula, of visiting a park at Ashtabula and standing beside a cannon. Then he said he was taken to Cleveland, where he was told he was in a hospital. It contained, he said, two rooms and a bath. He told of hiding in the bottom of the buggy and in the box under the washshand in the hospital, lest the doctor should see him and put him in a pesthouse. He said Mr. and Mrs. Jones directed him to do so.

MURRAY, SCENE OF BATTLE ROYAL

Three Austrians in Hospital and Eight in Jail is Sequel To Fight.

ONE BADLY CUT AND MAY DIE.

Too Much Bad Liquor Leads to a Very Lurid Melce Under the Silvery Moon.

There were lively times in Murray again last night and in consequence three Austrians are in the Murray hospital suffering from knife wounds, and contusions generated by brickbats and samples of slag In addition eight Austrians are in jail and prison accom-modations are accordingly somewhat limited at the smelter city. The damaged in hospital are:

The big trouble is believed by the residents of Murray to be caused by too much bad liquor and not so much religion as is given out. That it was not ligion as is given out. That it was not a religious feud is affirmed, because all are of the same faith. Whatever it was the foreigners made things very interesting while the fracas lasted. Anything from bullets to garbage cans obscured the moon and every stray dog in the vicolnity took to the foothills.

In the meantime Marshal Mauss, the deputies who are watching the strikers and a few others rushed into the ers and a few others rushed into the cortex and segregated the ambitious fighters who were spitting like the proverbial Kilkenny cats and filling the air with the Austrian equivalent for vituperation and abuse.

The placards stated that all the foreigners could re-ceive their money this afternoon when they are to consider themselves discharged. It was also stated that the other men could leave a day's pay with the company, and they would be re-employed when the smelter resumes. If Revision is Not Downwards. Campaign for Lower Duties Will Begin.

WHEN CONGRESS ADJOURNS.

Will Continue Until Judgment of Public is Entered in Journals of Congress.

Bill Now Before Senate Will Not be Accepted as Fulfillment of Party Pledge.

Washington, May 6 .- Predicting that a failure to pass a tariff bill providing lower duties on imports would provoke a political contest for another revision of the tariff, Senator Cummins of Iowa delivered a notable speech in the senate today. "The bill now before us," said Mr. Cummins, "will not be accepted by those who have favored a revision of the tariff as either a fulfillment of the party pledge or as a settlement of the controversy. If this bill or anything substantially like it becomes a law, I predict that a campaign for lower du-ties will begin the moment the extra-ordinary session of Congre's adjo ras ordinary session of Congress adjorns and will continue with increasing zeal until the judgment entered in the court of public conscience is also entered in the journals of Congress.

"It gives me no pleasure to utter this prophecy, for I have carnestly hoped the revision now in progress would end the dispute for years to come, and that the business of the country would enjoy the business of the country would enjoy the peace and tranquility which is im-possible during the existence of a movenent materially to change duties upon

"I have heard it said over and over "I have heard it said over and over since we began this discussion, nrt of course in public debate, but in private conversation, that there are but few people comparatively who were interested in a reduction of duties. I know that the voices of those who are clamoring for an increase of custom house taxation are more distinctly heard in the corridors and committee rooms, but the corridors and committee rooms, but there will come a time presently when the clamor of the millions who want relief will sound like the roar of a thousand Niagaras from one ocean to

Mr. Cummins said he had heard it said many times that the people who were insisting on tariff revision did not know whether duties were too high or two low. the other."

"This skepticism of the judgment of the common men is a fundamental mis-take often made, and always atoned for in sackcloth and ashes.

LAST ADMINISTRATION. "The last administration will be remembered, so long as the history of our country is preserved, for its victories in the struggle for rate regulation and for corporate fair deal-victories in the struggle for rate regulation and for corporate fair dealing.

"The work has just begun and I sincerely hope the present administration will be no less distinguished than the last one for its energy in dealing with these perplexing problems. One part, however, of the program was assigned by common consent to this administration, and its conspicuous leader assumed without hesitiation the task of tariff revision. The people know what they want with respect to revision just as well as they knew what they wanted with respect to railways and to industrial combinations; and their intelligent, educated, patriotic instinct is just as certain with respect to the tariff as it was with respect to transportation or monopolies. If we fail now substantially to reduce the duties upon the important schedules, we but nostpone the justice due to the people, a justice which, thanks to the genius of our institutions, they have the power to enforce, and which in the fullness of time they will enforce."

Passing to the consideration of lumber schedules he said it made little difference whether there was a duty or not so far as the preservation of forests are concerned. With respect to the cost of production, in the greater part of the United States at least, he said the American had the advantage of the Canadian and a duty was only necessary to equalize a disparity in rates of transportation.
